The University of VIRGINIA REUNIONS WEEKEND JUNE 5-8, 2014 CLASS OF 1994

REGISTER ONLINE TODAY virginiareunions.com

Presented by the University of Virginia Alumni Association
LEARN
Ever wonder what it would be like to take a class without papers or tests? Attend one of the many seminars and just enjoy learning. From history to science to art, there is something for everyone.

EXPLORE
While the Academical Village remains timeless, the Grounds have changed. Rediscover the University through tours and open houses. Come explore places like the new Betsy and John Casteen Arts Grounds, the new New Dorms, the new South Lawn and many more!

RECONNECT
Catch up with old friends as you come back to the place where it all started. Reminisce about the good times with the people who helped you create them and make new memories together.

NIGHTLIFE
Cut loose and have some fun! Dance the night away at one of the great band parties to songs made famous during your time at the University.

FAMILY FUN
Reunions are not just for adult Hoos. Enjoy a variety of kid- and teen-friendly programming offered throughout the weekend.
CLASS OF 1994 GATHERINGS

FRIDAY

BBQ and Beer in the Amphitheater
6:30–9 p.m.
Amphitheater
Start U.Va. Reunions Weekend off right with a laid-back summer barbecue in the Amphitheater. We’ll have plenty of beer, great food and lawn games. Catch up with classmates at this family-friendly event and hang around to be mesmerized by hypnotist Tom DeLuca right after dinner. Casual attire.

SATURDAY

Hoo Loves the ’90s Beer Garden
2:30–4:30 p.m.
Scott Stadium Colonnades
Spend the afternoon catching up with alums from the Classes of 1994 and 1999 and reliving the glory days of U.Va. football at Scott Stadium. Corn hole, Frisbee, picnic blankets to sit on the Hill and complimentary local brews, wine and nonalcoholic beverages will make for a great time.

Dinner on the Lawn
6–9:30 p.m.
Mid-Lawn Between Pavilions VII and VIII
Enjoy an evening under the stars with a Virginia family-style feast. Raise your glass to toast your 20-year reunion where it all began, right here in the heart of Grounds. Business casual attire.
FRIDAY

Three Sheets to the Wind
9:30 p.m.–midnight
Three Sheets to the Wind will kick off U.Va. Reunions Weekend with some of the smoothest music ever created. Enjoy AM Gold classics from the ’70s and ’80s performed by America’s No. 1 yacht rock tribute band.

Late Night Trivia
10:30 p.m.–midnight
Think you’re a trivia buff? Then grab a few friends and show your stuff at the third annual U.Va. Reunions Weekend trivia night at Mellow Mushroom on the corner! Alumni from all U.Va. reunion classes are invited to compete. If you’d rather socialize than play, come cheer on your classmates and enjoy alumni drink specials and late-night pizza. Space is limited.

SATURDAY

Jazz Piano Lounge
9–11 p.m.
Looking for a calm and casual atmosphere to talk with your friends after dinner? Or would you enjoy relaxing to light entertainment after a busy weekend? Come listen to the smooth jazz sounds of Wilfrid “88 Keys” Wilson while enjoying coffee and refreshments.

Simply Irresistible
9–11 p.m.
Start your night off with Simply Irresistible. Enjoy Motown, R&B, pop, hip-hop and ’70s and ’80s music performed live by this 13-piece show band. Simply Irresistible is guaranteed to have you on the dance floor!

The Skip Castro Band
11 p.m.–1 a.m.
Don’t miss this Wahoo favorite! Virginia’s legendary four-piece rockin’ rhythm and blues and swing boogie-woogie band is reuniting for a performance during Reunions Weekend. Charlie Pastorfield (Col ’75), Bo Randall (Col ’75), Corky Schoonover (SPSC ’12) and Danny Beirne are guaranteed to have you boogieing at midnight!

DJ Young Rye
10 p.m.–1 a.m.
DJ Young Rye, aka Ryan Kersey (Col ’06), has performed at star-studded parties across the country and has headlined U.Va.’s Young Alumni Reunion for the last five years. Join him on U.Va. Reunions Weekend as he transforms the Peabody Hall Tent into one of the best dance parties ever!
THURSDAY

Movie on the Lawn
5–11 p.m.
Kick off Reunions Weekend with an evening of laughter on the Lawn. Join your classmates for a late-night screening of the classic film The Goonies on an impressive 26-foot movie screen while eating popcorn and relaxing. Blankets will be provided and additional food will be available for purchase.

Carr’s Hill Open House and Welcome Reception
5:30–7 p.m.
Kick off your weekend by meeting President Teresa Sullivan, at Carr’s Hill, for this opening reception. Because of the limited capacity for accommodating large crowds inside of the Carr’s Hill residence, this reception will move to a new location in the event of inclement weather.

FRIDAY

Virginia Reunions Golf Tournament
1 p.m. Shotgun Start (Check-in begins at noon)
Birdwood Golf Course (Route 250 West)
Gather your friends and challenge your classmates to a competitive captain's choice match at the University's championship golf course. Awards will be presented to the first-, second- and third-place teams in addition to the longest-drive and closest-to-the-pin winners. Lunch can be purchased at The Grille; soft beverages and beer can be purchased on the course. Participation requires an additional fee of $80 per person. Preregistration is required.

Virginia Wine Festival
1–4:30 p.m.
Multiple vineyards from Charlottesville and the surrounding region will present tastings of their finest wines. Vineyards will also have bottles of wine available for purchase for those interested in taking a bottle (or two) back home. Participation requires an additional fee of $15 per person. Preregistration is required.

Hypnotist Tom DeLuca
9:30–11 p.m. (Doors open at 9 p.m.)
Who knew sleeping could be such a lively activity? Hypnotist Tom DeLuca makes his return to the University for a performance you will not want to miss. A fun affair for all, his show promises to be an embarrassingly good time. Arrive early for your chance to go on stage!
SATURDAY

Alumni Memorial
9 a.m.–noon
Visit the University Chapel to pay your respects to the departed sons and daughters of the University and view a display of alumni we’ll remember. The Chapel’s carillon will begin to toll at 10 a.m. on Saturday to mark the loss of members of the reunion classes who have passed away since the last reunion.

Wine 401: The Art of Wine Tasting
1:30–3:30 p.m.
Gabriele Rausse Winery, Jefferson Vineyards, Barboursville Vineyards and King Family Vineyards will present their top wines in this panel. Led by Tom Faulders (Col ’71), president of the Alumni Association, participants will taste several wines from the various vineyards. Participation requires an additional fee of $40 per person.

U.Va. Alumni Sing
4–6 p.m.
Alumni of all U.Va. singing groups are invited to gather and once more raise voices in song at this alumni event. Music (to be provided) will include several beloved U.Va. songs, and families/friends are welcome to come listen in Old Cabell Hall. Hosted by the University Singers and led by faculty conductor Michael Slon.

SUNDAY

“Come as You Go” Brunch Featuring Larry Sabato’s Crystal Ball
9 a.m.–noon
Gather with classmates one more time and enjoy a light brunch together while sharing stories of the weekend. Beginning at 10 a.m., listen to politics professor Larry Sabato (Col ’74) as he looks ahead to the midterm elections in 2014 and the presidential contest in 2016.
FRIDAY

Hoos in the News: Life as a Reporter
2:30–3:45 p.m.
Join panelists Wyatt Andrews (Col '74), national correspondent for CBS News and former White House correspondent; Larry Sabato (Col '74), political pundit and founder of the U.Va. Center for Politics; and Lane DeGregory (Col '89), Pulitzer Prize-winning writer for the Tampa Bay Times, in a riveting discussion about reporting and newscasting. The panelists will share their career paths, recount experiences in the field and reflect on the industry as a whole.

Saturdays

A Presidential Perspective on U.Va.'s Future
10:15–11:45 a.m.
President Teresa Sullivan will be joined by other academic leaders to describe new initiatives and programs that are emerging from The Cornerstone Plan – the University’s new strategic plan.

SATURDAY continued

America’s Response to Terrorism
2:15–3:30 p.m.
Since Sept. 11, 2001, the United States has faced persistent threats from a diverse range of terrorist groups and violent extremists. To confront these threats, the U.S. government relies on the nation’s armed forces, intelligence community and legal institutions. Join panelists Lt. Gen. David Deptula USAF (Ret.) (Col '74), former deputy chief of staff for Air Force intelligence and director of the Air Operations Center at the beginning of U.S. actions in Afghanistan in 2001; CIA Senior Analytic Service Member Gina Bennett (Col '88), whose 25-year career in counterterrorism includes the earliest warning analysis of Bin Laden; and moderator Matt Olsen (Col '84), director of the National Counterterrorism Center, for a discussion about the evolution of terrorism and the United States’ response.

Tom Talks, Hosted by the Class of 1979
2:45–4 p.m.
Join journalist, talk show host and fellow alumna Katie Couric (Col '79) as she hosts a series of speakers from the Class of 1979 giving mini talks about ideas and issues that ignite their passion and capture their interest.
FRIDAY

How to Weigh Less by Living (and Eating) More
11 a.m.–12:15 p.m.
Join Lara Dalch (Col ’94), certified health and nutrition coach and founder of Dalch Wellness, as she shares her simple formula for knowing the right food and exercise choices for your body and for ditching the diet mentality. Learn specific steps you can take to stop sabotaging your goals and start getting results, why eating less is not the right way to lose weight and the surprising missing piece to most people’s weight-loss puzzle.

Mapping Yourself
11 a.m.–12:15 p.m.
Curious about GPS, Google mapping and how you can be a part of the fun? Join Chris Gist (Col ’99) of the U.Va. Scholars’ Lab for an introduction to the magic of GPS and Google mapping. You’ll leave with the tools to communicate with satellites 12,000 miles overhead, make your own maps and selectively share your cartographic masterpieces with the world.

Electronic Resources for Genealogists
1–2:15 p.m.
Genealogists were among the first to see the research potential of the digital age. Now, after 30 years of data collecting, scanning and transcribing, there are many valuable resources available in electronic form for the family history researcher. Join librarian Jean Cooper for a presentation that will discuss some of the more important electronic collections on the Internet, concentrating on those that are free—or almost free.

Living in Charlottesville: Your Encore Years
4–5:15 p.m.
Ranked by Cities Ranked & Rated as “America’s Best Place to Live,” Charlottesville provides excellent homes, a vibrant economy and convenient travel throughout the East Coast and beyond. Don’t miss this panel of those who have relocated to Charlottesville to refire their lives, moderated by Peter Thompson (Col ’81), executive director of the Senior Center in Charlottesville. Learn about the local real estate market and resources available, such as the Osher Lifelong Learning Institute at U.Va.

SATURDAY

Goodnight Cavaliers: Book Reading and Signing Session
3–5 p.m.
Join Catherine Jennings Davis (Col ’99) and Traci Shirley Thompson (Col ’99), co-authors of the charming bedtime story Goodnight Cavaliers, in a family-friendly book reading and signing session during the Kid’s Carnival in Mad Bowl. Goodnight Cavaliers is a tribute to all the remarkable people, landmarks and traditions of the University.
FRIDAY

U.S. Health Care: What’s Next?
1–2:15 p.m.
The United States ranks 50th in life expectancy and infant mortality, 53rd in doctors per population and first in expenses per person. Federal and state legislation, practitioners and the public will all play a part in how we address these issues. Join Dr. Arthur “Tim” Garson, professor and director of U.Va.’s Center for Health Policy, in a discussion on specific solutions.

SATURDAY

Playing Through Pain: The Ethics of Sports Injuries
2:15–3:30 p.m.
An estimated 40 million children in the U.S. play at least one sport and, according to the National Youth Sports Safety Foundation, 21 percent of these young athletes say they have been pressured to play with an injury. Join panelists Dr. David Diduch, a professor of orthopedic surgery at U.Va., as well as former professional athletes in a conversation moderated by Dr. Marcus Martin, former chair of the department of emergency medicine at U.Va., as they discuss the issues involved with playing with injuries, the responsibilities of players, coaches and parents, and the mechanisms of protection, prevention, diagnosis and treatment.

SATURDAY

Alumni Children and the Admission Process with Admission Tour
8:30–10:15 a.m. (Tour begins at 9:15 a.m.)
Join an admission dean for an introduction to the college application process. A dean will speak on various topics, including why “fit” matters, how to write that winning essay and how legacy status can affect a student’s application. A significant amount of time will be left for questions. Starting at 9:15 a.m., enjoy a tour of Grounds led by current students and focused on student life.

U.Va. Chapel Carillon Revealed
2:15–3:30 p.m.
You may have heard it while walking around Grounds, but do you know what a carillon is and how it’s played? Join Jared Loevenstein, retired U.Va. librarian and official U.Va. carillonneur for a behind-the-scenes look at the Chapel’s carillon. Learn about the history of this fascinating instrument, some of the special occasions on which it’s played and enjoy a brief concert.

LGBTQ Life: The University and Its Peer Institutions
3–4:15 p.m.
U.Va.’s status compared with our peer institutions on LGBTQ issues will be the focus of a panel of students and alumni. Come share in the discussion of both the struggles faced by the community and the progress U.Va. has made in creating a positive LGBTQ climate.

FRIDAY

Renovating the Rotunda
11 a.m.–12:15 p.m.
Join Jody Lahendro (Arch ’82), historic preservation architect, as he recaps the Rotunda’s completed renovations over the past 15 months, and shares the upcoming two-year construction plans to install new capitals, replace building systems, add mechanical space and improve support services. Particular focus will be directed to the research and findings associated with the Rotunda’s historic features, including new discoveries of surviving Jeffersonian features.

The History of Virginia Cavalier Football
2:30–3:45 p.m.
Could the birthplace of the forward pass have been U.Va.’s Grounds? Was Virginia a legitimate national championship contender in the early 1990s? Through previously untold tales of an era when football was a brand-new sport, Kevin Edds (Col ’94), director of the documentary Wahoowa: The History of Virginia Cavalier Football, will share stories of how U.Va. made its mark on the gridiron.
FRIDAY

Monticello and Ash Lawn-Highland Excursion
9:30 a.m.–4 p.m.
Join U.Va. Alumni & Parent Travel for a special behind-the-scenes tour of Thomas Jefferson’s Monticello, which is the only home in America on the elite UNESCO World Heritage List, and James Monroe’s Ash Lawn-Highland. Transportation will be provided from Alumni Hall. Participation requires an additional fee of $60 per person and includes lunch. Preregistration is required. Sponsored by U.Va. Alumni & Parent Travel.

Craft Beer 101 & Tasting
11 a.m.–12:15 p.m.
Join Mark Thompson, U.Va. adjunct faculty member, master brewer and founder of Starr Hill Brewery, for an informative talk and tasting. Thompson will discuss the state of the craft beer industry in America, give a brief history of Starr Hill Brewery, touch on the styles that are driving the craft beer explosion and finish with a beer sampling.

The American Civil War on Film: How Hollywood Shapes What We Know
1–2:15 p.m.
Many Americans base their perceptions about U.S. history more on what they see in movies and on television than on what they read. Gary Gallagher, recipient of the Cavaliers’ Distinguished Teaching Professorship and John L. Nau III Professor in the History of the American Civil War, will explore how films like Gone with the Wind, Glory and Cold Mountain have presented—and distorted—the history of the Civil War.

Educating the Next Generation: Tools for Success
2:30–3:45 p.m.
Join panelists Debra Saunders-White (Col ’79), chancellor of North Carolina Central University; Martrice Gandy (Col ’08), chairperson of special education for Baltimore City Schools; and Michelle Young, director of the University Council for Education Administration and a professor in U.Va.’s Curry School of Education, in a conversation moderated by Dr. Billy Cannaday, dean and vice provost for academic outreach, about the evolution of classroom education, the tools that enable students to excel and what challenges must be addressed to ensure that every student succeeds on his or her educational journey.
FRIDAY continued

Cavalier Career Connections: Everything You Always Wanted to Ask a Recruiter (Panel and Networking Reception)
4–5:15 p.m.
Thinking about your next career move? Starting a job search? Our panel of alumni hiring professionals will discuss ways for you to stand out and be noticed as a candidate and put your best foot forward in the employment pool. Learn what employers are really looking for in resumes, cover letters, LinkedIn and more. Afterwards, mingle over happy hour with the panelists and fellow alumni for networking and conversation. TGIF! Relax, connect, have fun! Alumni and guests are welcome. Sponsored by Alumni Career Services.

From the Inside: The Scoop on Entertainment TV
4–5:15 p.m.

Halsted Sullivan (Col ’99), founder of the University’s Hullabahoos and a graduate of Harvard Law School, will moderate this panel. As a comedy writer/producer, Sullivan has received several Emmy nominations for work on The Office and The Chris Rock Show.

SATURDAY

The Psychedelic ’60s: Literary Tradition and Social Change
9:15–10 a.m.
Take a walk down memory lane and revisit the love-ins, flower power and protests of the ’60s. Special Collections librarians will present to you some of the Library’s most spectacular holdings in social movements and contemporary literature, including manuscripts, books, pamphlets and ephemera that document this dynamic, controversial and exciting decade.

Media Now—and Media in the Future
9:15–10 a.m.
What’s hot in media … and what’s down the line? Come listen to a panel of media studies alumni from the Classes of 2004 and 2009 share their thoughts about current trends in media and where the field is headed.

SUNDAY

Sabato’s Crystal Ball

Supervised arts activities will be provided by the Fralin Museum of Art. Parents must drop off and pick up children at the program site. Participation requires an additional fee of $25 per child, per session, registered by May 31, 2014.

Session 1
10 a.m.–12:45 p.m. (check-in begins at 9:30 a.m.)
(box lunch provided)
I Dream of Collage (Grades K–2)
We’ll discuss the dreamlike collages of Joseph Cornell and use color images of works in the museum to create pictures of things that would never happen in the real world.

Assembling (Grades 3–5)
We’ll look at the museum’s exhibition of works by Joseph Cornell, who pioneered the use of found object assemblage in the 20th century, and work from a wide assortment of 2-D images and 3-D objects to create shadow boxes that tell a personal story.

Surrealism According to Cornell (Grades 6–9)
We’ll discuss surrealism in the found-image collages by 20th-century artist Joseph Cornell, and use color images of works from the museum’s collection to create surrealist landscapes that contain unexpected juxtapositions of subject and place.

Session 2
1–3 p.m. (check-in begins at 12:45 p.m.)
Books Are Not Just for Reading (Grades K–2)
After a tour in the museum and an introduction to the printmaking process, we’ll use drawing, cyanotype printing, simple block printing and collage to create a multipage artist’s book.

Surrealism According to Cornell (Grades 3–5)
We’ll discuss surrealism in the found-image collages by 20th-century artist Joseph Cornell, and use color images of works from the museum’s collection to create surrealist landscapes that contain unexpected juxtapositions of subject and place.

KIDS’ CARNIVAL
3–5 p.m.
Your little Hoos will have a ton of fun with moon bounces, face painting, balloon animals and more. A great afternoon activity for the whole family to enjoy. Catherine Jennings David (Col ’99) and Traci Shirley Thompson (Col ’99), co-authors of the charming bedtime story Goodnight Cavaliers, will host a family-friendly book reading and signing session during the event. Carnival will not be supervised; all children must be accompanied by an adult.

KIDS’ MOVIES
Drop your little Hoos off at Newcomb Hall to enjoy free snacks and a nighttime movie. Open to kids 5 years of age and up. Staff members from Bright Beginnings Preschool will supervise this activity.

The Princess and the Frog (G)
8:30–10:30 p.m.
Newcomb Hall, Kaleidoscope Room

Eight Below (PG)
